THE MAYOR'S VOTE IS IN!
LOCAL DESIGNER TAKES TOP AWARDS AT HABITAT EVENT
Marybeth Barrett given Judge's Choice and People's Choice Awards

Winston-Salem, North Carolina (November 4, 2008) – Marybeth Barrett with re:Design, LLC received the Judge's Choice and People's Choice Awards as part of the Third Annual ReStore Spaces Event. Judges for the event included Allen Joines, the Mayor of Winston-Salem, as well as J.R. Snider from WSJS, and Jennifer Shoffner and Ruby Schaefer with Liberty Hardware, one of the sponsors of the event.

The event, hosted by the Winston-Salem Regional Association of REALTORS®, promotes the Habitat for Humanity ReStore, a retail outlet offering consumers bargains on donated building supplies, furniture and appliances. All of the money raised at the event goes to help Habitat build more homes in the community. In total, more than $11,500 was raised to support Habitat for Humanity.

Ms. Barrett was one of eight designers from across the Triad selected to design rooms using donated items found at the Habitat ReStore. Her room, which was the living room, blended a number of styles and repurposed objects into a unique and inviting space.

"Working as a volunteer with the ReStore has taught me to look at everything as though it has potential. I believe that my space reflects that belief...an old vanity light becomes a candleholder on a mantelpiece or cabinet doors as decorative trays on a table," said Ms. Barrett. "I'm grateful that the judges and those attending enjoyed the space and appreciated my creativity."

Adds Ms.Barrett, "My work in interior redesign is not about helping people to spend a lot of money. It's about helping them to use what's on hand with a few new finds to make a room feel personal and inviting. I appreciate having the opportunity to share that as part of the ReStore Spaces Event."
